

Aerospace businesses take flight in Skagit County, Washington

The Right Opportunity.

Why did cutting-edge aerospace companies like Janicki Industries, Hexcel, Pioneer Aerofab, Team Corporation and International Aero choose to locate in Skagit County, Washington? It's the right choice for aerospace companies today. And tomorrow.

The right location. Located in the heart of the United States aerospace industry, Skagit County is located midway between Seattle, Washington, and Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Mount Vernon, the business, technology, law, banking, government and cultural center of Skagit County, and the Port of Skagit, the industrial center of Skagit County, are located just 25 minutes away from Everett, Washington, where the Boeing 747s, 767s, 777s and the new 787 Dreamliner are built.

The right connections. Skagit County is served by Interstate 5 and State Route 20, Skagit Regional Airport (owned by the Port of Skagit) featuring corporate, business and recreational flying service, Burlington Northern Santa Fe and Union Pacific freight rail lines, Amtrak rail service, and a regional transit system.

The right infrastructure. To meet the demand for more bandwidth at a lower price, Mount Vernon and the Port of Skagit have built a Fiber Infrastructure as the foundation for business and local economic growth. Power and other utility costs are significantly lower than a business will find in Snohomish or King Counties.

The right price. Looking for industrial land and buildings that are half the cost of comparable sites in Snohomish and King County? Skagit County provides tremendous value for businesses looking to grow in today's challenging economy. And Skagit County offers financial incentives aerospace businesses will not find in King and Snohomish County.

The right sites. The Port's Bayview Business Park and Mount Vernon offer shovel ready industrial and commercial sites. And our award winning permitting process allows most land use and building permits to be issued within 30 days.

The right workforce. You will find a well-educated, skilled and motivated workforce in Skagit County - with competitive, lower wages. And our State does not have a personal income tax.

The right training partners. Skagit Valley College is helping to meet the training needs of the aerospace industry. The College has received Air Washington grants to develop comprehensive training programs in manufacturing, assembly, electronics and composites.
